

Getting the Homework Habit

with the Inclusion and Intervention Team

What's homework like in your house?

He says it's too hard before he's even looked at it.

I have to sit next to her the whole time or she's on her phone.

Trying to cope with three children's homework is impossible. They all need me at the same time.

He keeps saying there's no homework, but there must be.

If you are a parent of children between the ages of 5 and 15 years and want to find out about some simple strategies to take the hassle out of homework

contact inclusionandinterventiontraining@milton-keynes.gov.uk
